The Flower of the Year

BLAZE ZINNIA

THE ALL-AMERICA WINNER FOR 1954

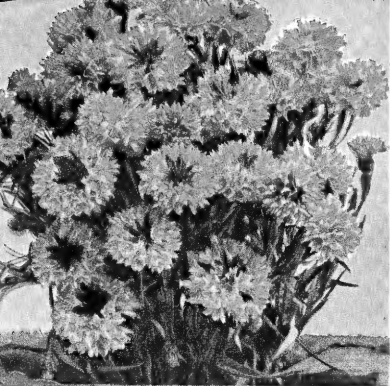

BLAZE, Zinnia. 2298. The All-America Winner for 1954, is truly the "Flower of the Year." The flowers are of mandarin-red, softening to orange-scarlet as they attain their size of 5 inches across. The fully double flowers have gracefully quilled petals and the plants grow 30 inches tall.

Blaze Zinnia is of the giant Cactus-Flowered or Fantasy type and is the newest of the Giant Hybrid Zinnias. It is easily grown from seed and will show best results if the seeds are sown in their permanent location.

You will enjoy Blaze for its gay beauty as a cut flower and for bedding. Price: 35c per pkt.
